

Group courses offers

Ad'A Art Academy is inspired by the old Florentine art workshop, in which in a multidisciplinary space different techniques are integrated and interact among them. Thus the student has free access to knowledge and practice of the different artistic techniques.

Ad'A Art Academy offers group courses for schools, universities or visitors. The programs are design specifically according to the needs of each individual group, considering the groups' interest and the time they have available. There is no age restriction, either it could be children or adults, nor previous knowledge requirements, courses are designed from basic to advanced level.

Courses can be held in the morning or afternoon; in Spanish, English or Italian.

The Accademia organizes various activities such as guided tours, field trips and art history classes as well as Cooking lessons.
